MARION COUNTY GIRL SCOUT EARNS HIGHEST AWARD: THE GOLD AWARD

Marion County Girl Scout, Kameryn Knowles, has recently been recognized for earning the prestigious Gold Award, the highest honor in Girl Scouts. Her project, titled "Beat the Heat," focused on raising awareness about the dangers of Heat Borne Illnesses in youth, as well as educating others on the signs, symptoms, and prevention methods.

With Heat Borne Illnesses affecting over 3 million youth athletes worldwide, Kameryn's project provided crucial information to help protect young individuals. In addition to giving presentations, Kameryn also created "Keep Cool" kits that included essential items to assist those showing signs of a Heat Borne Illness.

Through her hard work and dedication to this important cause, Kameryn discovered her passion for helping others. By completing this project, she has gained valuable skills in Girl Scout Leadership outcomes such as a strong sense of self, positive values, challenge seeking, and community problem solving.

Earning the Gold Award is a testament to Kameryn's commitment to making a positive impact in her community and within the Girl Scout organization. Not only has she achieved the highest award, but she has also earned both her Bronze and Silver Awards, making her a recipient of all three Girl Scout High Awards.

As a graduating senior, Kameryn's leadership and dedication serve as an inspiring example of the Girl Scout Leadership experience. Her contributions to her community and the organization reflect her exceptional character and commitment to making a difference.
