This year’s World Series will bring together all qualifying 8-and-under teams from the Cal Ripken Division of Babe Ruth League Baseball. An estimated 8 to 10 teams, along with their coaches, parents, and families, will travel from across the United States including teams already committed from Bonaire and Colombia to participate in this prestigious event. These young athletes will compete at the highest level of baseball for their age group. Throughout the week, a variety of engaging activities—both on and off the field—will be held to honor the dedication and achievements of these outstanding teams as they compete in the Cal Ripken World Series. All games will be livestreamed via the Tourney Machine app.
