Hill's Science Diet is one of only five companion animal food brands that achieve both Association of American Feed Control Officials (AAFCO) certification and meet World Small Animal Veterinary Association (WSAVA) guidelines. The Hill's Food, Shelter & Love partnership provides Hill's Science Diet foods at a substantially discounted price to animal shelters - between 35-74% - for commonly used foods. By receiving quality food at a discount, this will enable us to consistently feed the same food, eliminating gastrointestinal upset and other physical and behavioral challenges that often present in the shelter. This program also provides Adopter Kits that will provide adopter's consistency in the transition to their home.
